

OPTIMAL RESOURCE UTILIZATION

Institute of Aerospace Medicine is a premier defence institute offering post graduate MD Aerospace Medicine in India and the whole of South-East Asia. The Institute possesses the state-of-the-art simulators which are the best in the world. The objective of the Institute is to impart training to the post graduate residents with highest standards of education, other than training the Institute is the hub of Aerospace Medicine activity in India involving both Civil Aviation and Military aviation sectors.

Optimal utilization of resources

- The Institute aims at producing world class specialists and groom the budding specialists in this field to assume role of a military/ civil aviation medical practitioners. And also promotes research, development, consultancy and such other activities, involving various agencies at various National & International levels.
- Travel grants can be sanctioned to faculty to present research papers at or to attend National or International Conferences in India or abroad, depending on availability of funds.
- Effective utilization of infrastructure is ensured through effective utilisation of man power.
- The available physical infrastructure is optimally utilized beyond regular college hours, to conduct research activities.
- The Institute infrastructure is utilized for conducting various courses for the armed forces personnel and civilian medical professionals from all across the country in consonance with improvement of human performance and aerospace safety